

June 2008

Hygiene Group announces SOFHT sponsorship

Hygiene Group, the UK's largest specialist supplier of hygiene management services to the food and pharmaceutical industries, has announced its sponsorship of the Society of Food Hygiene and Technology (SOFHT) Annual Lecture and Luncheon.

To be held in November this year at a prestigious central London hotel, Justin King, Chief Executive of Sainsbury's will present a lecture entitled 'Exceeding Customer Expectations for Healthy, Safe, Fresh and Tasty Food' to an audience of leading players within the food, hygiene and technology fields.

Steve Bailey, Managing Director of the Hygiene Group said: "As the market leader in hygiene services for the food industry we are delighted to be sponsoring this prestigious event."

-Ends-